How to use them (10 minutes a day)

1. Search in English first, then with the local job title (Google Translate it).
2. Filter for jobs that mention visa sponsorship, relocation or "English-speaking".
3. Apply on the employer's own site when the listing links to it.
4. Use a CV in that country's format (one size does not fit all).

> Never pay for a job. A real employer does not charge you. If an Indian agent asks for money, check that their recruiting licence is listed on eMigrate (Government of India) first.

Next step: is your CV ready for these countries?
